The Captain of the Gray Horse Troop

By HAMLIN GARLAND

Author of "MAIN TRAVELED ROADS," Etc.

In this new novel Mr. Garland has written an original love story of Western frontier life. Incidentally there are vivid, vigorous pictures of life at a Western army post, together with many exciting incidents and adventures. It is a novel that will rank high among the year's successes.

Post 8vo, Cloth, Frontispiece Portrait, $1.50

The Dark o' the Moon

By S. R. CROCKETT

Author of "THE RAIDERS," Etc.

Mr. Crockett's fiction is too well known to need more than an announcement of a new work from his pen. The present novel is written on the lines of his recent success, "The Raiders." It is a stirring romance of Galloway—a capital story full of original situations and thrilling incidents.

Post 8vo, Ornamented Cloth, Illustrated, $1.50

HARPER & BROTHERS, Franklin Square, New York

A Book to Recommend to Lovers of Good Literature

EDITH WHARTON'S
The VALLEY of DECISION

Recognized everywhere immediately on publication as a performance of great literary importance. : : :

THE MAIL AND EXPRESS says the book places her at once
"among the great novelists of the day," and declares her the peer of Mrs. Humphry Ward.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE says this is the fruition of the promise of her earlier works.

THE N. Y. TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW calls the novel individual, original, subtle, artistic, a piece of exquisite handiwork.

THE LOUISVILLE TIMES calls it a novel of splendid parts and lasting qualities.

It has come to stay, and will have a large sale

Note that AT LARGE

Hornung's last book, immediately got on the "six best sellers' list" in New York City and is staying there.

NOTES IN SEASON.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish on the 18th inst. "The Captain of the Gray Horse Troop," a love story of Western frontier life, with vivid glimpses of army post adventures; also, "The Dark o' the Moon," in which S. R. Crockett tells an exciting tale of Galloway adventures.

L. C. PAGE & Co. announce for early publication "Abroad with the Jimmies," by Lilian Bell, a witty account of a journey through Europe, filled with many amusing incidents and adventures. Vivid and interesting glimpses of Nordau, Tolstoy and other personages of note are given; but not the least attractive figures in the book are the engaging "Jimmies," the author's travelling companions.

FORDS, HOWARD & HULBERT have just ready "Good Cheer Nuggets," selections from Maeterlinck, Le Conte, Hugo, and Horatio Dresser, compiled by Jeanne G. Pennington, who also gathered the material for the "Don't Worry Nuggets," "Philosophic Nuggets," etc. The volume, inasmuch as its contents help the reader to take a cheerful and hopeful view of life, makes an apt Easter gift. It is bound in both cloth and leather.

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish shortly "Reminiscences of Sixty Years in Public Affairs," by George S. Boutwell. As Grant's Secretary of the Treasury, as Governor of Massachusetts, and as his state's representative in both houses of Congress, Governor Boutwell has had considerable share in making history. Throughout his career he has been "on the inside" in nearly all the political events of great importance. His book is full of lively and amusing personal anecdotes, dealing with many of the great figures of the last fifty years. Governor Boutwell is eighty-three years old, but is still hale and vigorous enough to have taken a direct interest and part in the getting out of his book.

THE NEW AMSTERDAM BOOK COMPANY intend to bring out very shortly the first volume of a new series of books to be called the Commonwealth Library. The series is intended to present in popular form, and at a low price, reprints of works of lasting value, which are more or less rare and can now be obtained only in costly editions. It will embrace works in almost every department of literature except fiction, and the series will be exceptionally strong in early American exploration. The first volume to appear will be the journals of Lewis & Clark, made up of the reports and narratives of its members and published in 1814. A fuller announcement of the series, with a list of the books promised for this year, will be given a little later.

A. C. McCLURG & Co. will publish on the 19th inst. a volume which they confidently believe will create a widespread interest. It is a Viking romance of Leif Ericsson's voyage to America, and is entitled "The Thrall of Leif the Lucky." In addition to the charm of the story itself, which the publishers state is most absorbing, they expect the remarkable colored pictures by Troy and Margaret Kinney to attract much attention. Certainly the period chosen for the material of this story should furnish inspiration for a captivating romance, and it has been long neglected in favor of less inspiring themes. The author, Miss Otilie A. Liljencrantz, is herself a descendant of the fine old sea-rovers she describes. She is a resident of Chicago, and although very young, has spent many years preparing herself for her first book. Ever since she conceived the ambition to write a great romance about the Vikings she has made a close study of all the available literature about that period. They announce that they will publish, if sufficient interest is displayed to warrant the undertaking, an "Index to Recitations, Readings and Dialogues," which will give references to the titles, authors and first lines, of perhaps 15,000 pieces that are to be found in some 200 of the best collections. The publisher's name of the different books in which the recitations, etc., appear, and their prices, will also be given.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Ames, Mrs. Eleanor Maria Easterbrooke, ["Eleanor Kirk," pseud.] The prevention and cure of old age. Brooklyn, N. Y., Eleanor Kirk, [1902.] c. '99. 3+176 p. D. pap., 50 c.

In thirteen cleverly written chapters, the author offers her remedies against the advance of old age. They embrace advice about diet, exercise, the cultivation of the "ego," the encouragement of vanity and the holding of only sweet and beautiful thoughts towards all mankind.

Arany, S. A., M.D. The British-American guide to Carlsbad; with appendix of after-cure resorts. 3d Amer. ed. N. Y., Abbey Press, 1902. c. 3+90 p. il. D. pap., 50 c.

Contrary to the expectation aroused by the title, "Lepidus the Centurion" is not a tale of old Roman days, but instead is concerned with English life of the present time. Beyond a touch of unreality lent by an unusual plot, the situations are vivid, well connected and plausible.

"If ever there was a natural hero, it was Edward of England. In his person, his character, his position, and his policy, are summed up the essential elements of that great English nation which came into existence during his lifetime. How far Edward was its creator, how far its creature, it is a shrewd question, which each student of history must answer for himself; but I trust that this little book may help him to form a sound conclusion."—Preface. The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MARCH 8, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE DANGER OF WOOD-PULP PAPER.

"LIKE the leaves of the forest when autumn hath blown," books within twenty years show discolored and broken leaves, the beginning of a decay that will make them valueless probably within a generation. The use of wood-pulp in paper-making has given the public cheap newspapers and cheap books, which are good things. It has accelerated the rate of decay of whatever is printed on it, which is also, at times, a good thing. At other times it is not, and to guard against the loss that might be caused by the decay of valuable documents, the public printer at Washington and the Government Stationery Office at London require that no mechanical or ground wood-pulp shall be introduced in making paper supplied to them for book printing, and for written documents paper made from rags only is used. In the case of printing paper the defects are mainly those of recent progress. Matthias Koops, who, in 1801, took out the first patent for making wood paper, produced sheets that recent examination showed to be of good quality and in good preservation. Koops sliced the wood he used, and the fibre was preserved. He used aspen and willow, free from the resin that characterizes spruce, and which, if not boiled out, is a weakening element in the sheets of paper produced. Chemical wood paper, made from sliced wood, is free from the most marked of the defects that characterize the ground pulp article; but if it is not carefully made the impurities detract from its durability, and it, too, is liable to turn brown and become brittle. The Prussian Government was the first to notice and provide against the danger of defective material in public documents. It established standards of quality and defined tests to which paper for all official documents was subjected. In recent years the public documents issued by the American and British governments are not found with discolored margins, the beginning of the process of deterioration, that is often noticed in those produced after 1880, when pulp wood paper began to be generally used in book printing. In the case of written documents, paper made from rags being used, they are practically permanent, though in their case also the use of chlorine in producing the white shade now called for in the paper has a tendency to weaken its strength. Care in the stationery department is necessary for the public protection, even in their case.

It gives us pleasure to report that the work of compiling the index to "The Publishers' Trade List Annual" for 1902 is about completed. We are waiting only for a few minor publishers to send us definite word whether they will be represented with lists in this volume to edit the material and send it to the printer. We can, as usual, receive catalogues for insertion until July 1, under certain conditions later; but we must have a full record of the books to be included in the index by March 31 at the latest. We need hardly impress the tardy contributor with the importance of acting promptly in this matter.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN LIBRARIAN.

THE BOOKLOVERS' LIBRARY recently announced that after March 5 no new members would be admitted to the library from the coach delivery districts centering at West Thirty-third Street, New York, and Walnut Street, Philadelphia. The same ruling will apply later in the month to Boston, Chicago and Washington, and in about a month the membership will be closed in all cities and towns east of Chicago. This news was no doubt a sad blow to thousands of those who were eager to become members of the Book-lovers' Library. However, a door has been opened for these in the establishing of an entirely new library to be known as the "Tabard Inn." The old Tabard Inn at Southwark, as is well known, was made famous by Chaucer in his "Canterbury Tales." There all ranks and classes of society were brought together in the company of pilgrims who assembled to ride to the shrine of the Saint of Canterbury—the Knight with his son the Squire and his retainer the Yeoman, the Abbot, the Friar, the Parson, the Priest, the Clerk of Oxford, the Doctor of Physic, the Sergeant of Law, the Haberdasher, the Carpenter, the Weaver, the Dyer, the Cook, the Ploughman, the Sailor—with their stories of chivalry, of religion, of love, of magic—representing every aspect of social life; a picture famous the world over in literature and in art. In the "Tabard Inn" of the twentieth century "the newest books will be the pilgrims, and the homes and hearthstones of the people will be the literary shrines." Arrangements have been made to place revolving bookcases in ten thousand drug stores and other attractive shops throughout the United States, each bookcase to hold about one hundred and twenty books, to be changed every week. Membership in the "Tabard Inn" costs $3, and will be good for life for the entire United States. Members may exchange their books as often as they like and wherever they like—that is, at any "Tabard Inn Library" or station in the United States—by depositing five cents in a compartment of the bookcase and making their own selection. The book will be the only identification necessary. As heretofore, all the new books will be circulated—the latest publications of science, philosophy, literature, etc., as well as the newest fiction.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE.

At the March dinner, to be held on the evening of the 12th inst., at the Aldine Association, the guest of honor will be Mr. James S. Baker, of the Baker & Taylor Company, to whom a reception will be given. Mr. George Haven Putnam, Mr. J. H. Dingman, Mr. Simon Brentano and others will address the League.

On this evening, as already noted, the seventh annual meeting of the League will be held at which the president and the Board of Trustees will be voted for. Two amendments of the Constitution will also come up for consideration. Members wishing to attend must notify Mr. Cass Richardson at E. P. Dutton & Co.'s, 31 West 23d Street, before March 10.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Joseph McDonough will remove "Ye Olde Booke House" from State Street to the building of the Weed-Parsons Printing Company, on Columbia Street, where he has leased the front building of three stories, each story with a floor space of 45 x 65 feet. He will discontinue the sale of current literature and confine himself to standard works, rare Americana and imported English books.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Claims amounting to $130,000 were filed on the 6th inst. against the George M. Hill Company, publishers, and on the application of creditors Judge Kohlsaat appointed Robert O. Law temporary receiver in bankruptcy for the assets of the concern.

DALLAS, TEX.—John T. Kerrigan's bookstore was totally destroyed by fire on February 7. He will resume business at the earliest possible moment.

LEAVENWORTH, KAN.—Miss C. M. Chance, recently of C. M. Chance & Co., booksellers, has been appointed buyer and manager of the book and stationery department of the George B. Peck Dry Goods Company, Kansas City, Mo. Miss Chance's sister will continue the Leavenworth store.

NEW YORK CITY.—Fords, Howard & Hulbert have removed from 47 East Tenth Street, where they have been the past ten years, to the Bible House.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Wilbur B. Ketcham Publishing Company is the name of a new concern of publishers, importers, and booksellers, at 156 Fifth Avenue. Wilbur B. Ketcham, recently of the Wilbur B. Ketcham Company, is the manager of the new company.

OXFORD, N. Y.—H. J. Galpin has sold the school books and supplies, stationery and news department of his business to G. W. Quackenbush.

RUTLAND, VT.—John J. Carbine has removed his bookstore from the Mead Block to the Killington Bank Block.

SPRINGFIELD, MO.—John W. Fairbanks has bought out T. E. Whitlock's book and stationery business.

TROY, ALA.—Rufus Post, bookseller, has sold out.

UNION CITY, TENN.—W. D. Harrison and J. L. Shives have bought a half interest in the Caldwell bookstore. The new firm is the Caldwell Stationery Co. D. P. Caldwell is president; W. D. Harrison, general manager, and J. L. Shives, secretary and treasurer.

VICTORIA, TENN.—George H. French, of the Daily Advocate, has opened a book and stationery store, and carries a full line of the latest books.

WEST PLAINS, MO.—Will F. Barnett has sold out his interest in the Post Office Bookstore.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA.—Otto, Chatham & Dean, booksellers, have been succeeded by H. Y. Otto.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THOMAS NELSON & SONS will publish on the 1st of April the American Standard edition of the Revised Bible on Nelson's India paper.

ERNEST BEUTELSPACHER & Co., Dresden, Saxony, have just ready "Im dunkelsten Amerika," ("In Darkest America,") by Felix Baumann, who has secured copyright in this country.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just ready the fourth and concluding volume of the elaborate "Cyclopædia of American Horticulture," edited by Professor Liberty H. Bailey, of Cornell University.

HENRY T. COATES & Co. will publish shortly "Songs and Stories of Tennessee," by John Trotwood Moore, author of "A Summer Hymnal," one of the most successful books published by this house last season.

THE CAXTON BOOK CO., Cleveland, O., announce a book entitled "Blood Will Tell, the Strange story of a Son of Ham," by Benjamin Rush Davenport, author of "Blue and Gray," etc., with illustrations by J. H. Donahey.

THE SAALFIELD PUBLISHING CO., Akron, O., announce an attractive book for children entitled "In a Car of Gold," by P. L. Gray. The "car of gold" takes an imaginary trip to Mars, directed by two tiny maidens. The book has a number of illustrations.

BRENTANO'S have just ready "José," a story by A. Palacio Valdés, author of "The Joy of Captain Ribot," etc. The translation is made with the consent of the author by Minna Caroline Smith. They have also just ready an entertaining story entitled "The Lover's Progress."

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have just ready R. S. Rait's "Five Stuart Princesses," sketches of Margaret of Scotland, Elizabeth of Bohemia, Mary of Orange, Henrietta of Orleans, and Sophia of Hanover; also, R. Nisbet Bain's "Peter III., Emperor of Russia." They will publish shortly a new and cheaper edition of Montgomery Carmichael's "In Tuscany."

A. WESSELS COMPANY, in connection with Cassell & Co., of London, will publish at once the volume prepared by the late well-known art critic, Cosmo Monkhouse, on "Oriental Porcelain." The volume treats of the subject historically and descriptively, and has a preface and notes by Dr. S. W. Bushell, a glossary and a bibliography. Twenty-four colored plates and fifty-four half-tone illustrations will accompany the text.

D. C. HEATH & Co. will publish shortly "Das Urteil des Paris," by the distinguished German writer, Adolf Wilbrandt, edited, with introduction and notes, by A. G. Wirt, Professor of German in the University of Denver. The story is humorous, racy, original, abounds in decidedly modern colloquial expressions, and should prove entertaining and useful for somewhat advanced pupils in school, or intermediate pupils in college, as well as for the general reader.

THE DIRECTORS OF OLD SOUTH WORK in Boston have just added two interesting leaflets to their useful series of Old South Leaflets. One is a reprint of the most important passages from Dante's "De Monarchia;" the other is a representative section of More's "Utopia." These new leaflets are Nos. 123 and 124 of this large series, in which for the mere cost of printing, five cents a copy, so many historical papers of rare worth are being furnished to our schools and people.

LEWIS BUDDY, of The Kirgate Press, Canton, Pa., has just published a neat edition of Hawthorne's "Main Street," which is the first of a series of reprints of New England literature by writers contemporary with Hawthorne. He has also published "The Last Speech of William McKinley," that which was delivered at Buffalo in September, only the day before the late President's assassination. It is introduced by a prefatory note by the Hon. H. B. F. Macfarland, President of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and includes a portrait of Mr. McKinley.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish shortly "The Seven Churches of Asia," a collection of sermons on the subject delivered at the Brick Church by the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan; "Thoughts for the Sundays of the Year," an aid to the devotional as well as to the every-day life, by Professor H. C. G. Moule, who succeeded Dr. Wescott in the bishopric of Durham; "The Principles of Jesus," in their application to modern life, by Robert E. Speer; also, the autobiography of Gipsy Smith, the foremost and most successful lay evangelist of England, with an introduction by Dr. Alexander McLaren.

THE UNITED STATES GEOLOGICAL SURVEY is now engaged in the topographical survey of the State of New York. The topographical map of the State will be published in atlas sheets, each about 16½ x 20 inches, representing about 230 square miles. Of the 200 sheets required to cover the State, 100 are finished—those covering the Mohawk and Hudson valleys and the Erie and Ontario regions—and 35 are in course of preparation. Each sheet is engraved on copper and printed in three colors: brown for contour lines, blue for lakes and streams, and black for artificial features, as roads, railroads, etc. The resident hydrographer is George B. Hollister, at Rutherford, N. J.

J. F. TAYLOR & Co. have just ready an historical novel of India, "Lachmai Bai," by Capt. Michael White, dealing with the Sepoy Rebellion, and having for its central figure the Indian princess often known as the "Joan of Arc of India." Captain White was born in India, and has a fund of information and experience to draw upon in his pictures of native life. They have also issued a volume of Maxim Gorky's striking stories of Russian life, called "Twenty-six and One," while their novel of American life, "The Ordeal of Elizabeth," has already run through several editions. They have in preparation a volume of short stories by Herman Bernstein, entitled "In the Gates of Israel."

WILLIAM H. YOUNG, whose sign has hung over the door of his present place of business, at 214 River Street, Troy, N. Y., for sixty years, entered the book business at that same place ten years before—that is, on the first of March, 1832, and hence is entering upon the seventieth year of his career as a bookseller. We doubt whether there are many left in the book business to-day who can point to so long an uninterrupted and, on the whole, to so successful a career as a bookseller as Mr. Young. Notwithstanding the burden of years and responsibilities, Mr. Young is still hale and active and as up-to-date in business methods as his juniors. We offer our congratulations, and assure Mr. Young of our "most distinguished consideration."

MCCCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish about the middle of the month a new book by Joel Chandler Harris, entitled "The Making of a Statesman, and other stories." The story which gives the book its title deals with a young college man, who gives up his career in payment of a debt of gratitude to his patron, a Georgia planter. The planter is ambitious to become a successful politician, but is hampered by his inability as an orator. The young man, who is naturally gifted in this respect, trains his senior for years, and finally wins success for him. There is a very charming love story interwoven, with the planter's daughter for heroine. The shorter stories in the volume are character sketches of somewhat the type for which Mr. Harris is famous.

THE CENTURY COMPANY have in preparation a volume containing forty-eight of Timothy Cole's engravings of the older English masterpieces of painting. The pictures will be accompanied by text written by Professor John C. Van Dyke. The artists represented will include Hogarth, Reynolds, Gainsborough, Romney, Lawrence, Constable, Landseer and others. Besides making a luxurious volume of these plates, the Century Company will also publish them in a portfolio of signed proofs, each proof to bear the signature of Mr. Cole and the plate printer. As indicating the care with which the work will be done, it is said that the making of the proofs will take a year, and the preparation of the paper on which they are to appear the same length of time.

THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY have just ready a novel entitled "The Fighting Bishop," by Dr. Herbert M. Hopkins, which is described as "something different from the ordinary run of novels of the day, one after the manner of the old school." Dr. Hopkins, though born in Hannibal, Mo., and having lived in Illinois, claims Toledo, O., for his home, as it is there that the greater part of his life has been passed. His forebears were among the pioneers of this Northern Ohio lake shore, and it is of them that he writes. Dr. Hopkins is a graduate of Columbia College, and received the degrees of A.M. and Ph.D. from Harvard. He recently resigned his professorship in the University at Berkeley, California, to accept the chair of Latin in Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

THE GRAFTON PRESS, New York, will publish on the 15th inst. an up-to-date book on the South African war, entitled "The Mobile Boer," by Captain John A. Hassell and Captain Alan R. I. Hiley, until recently officers in the "American Scouts" with the Boer forces; "The Land of Nome," by Lanier McKee, which besides treating in a graphic and instructive manner a subject of exceptional interest and importance in its various features, contains also much valuable information of a practical nature about the mines and mining laws of Alaska; also, "Love Songs, and Other Poems," by Owen Innsley. Next month they will publish "The Worth of Words," by Dr. Raley Husted Bell, with an introduction by Dr. William Colby Cooper; and "The Song of the Wedding Bells," by William Bonnie Ockhame.

A. S. BARNES & Co. will publish shortly Charles Burr Todd's monograph on Colonel Aaron Burr, under the general title, "The True Aaron Burr." In later life Colonel Burr took into his law office several young men of brilliant parts whom he educated for the bar. To these young men who had his confidence he was fond of talking of the men and events of his career. Some of these men Mr. Todd was privileged to know, and to him as a collateral descendant of Colonel Burr, and the historian of his family, they repeated his reminiscences and talked more freely of his plans and purposes as revealed by him than they would have done to a stranger, so that Mr. Todd's little book, in so far as it relates to Colonel Burr's career in controversy, may be said to have been inspired by that gentleman himself.

THE LEAGUE FOR POLITICAL EDUCATION, 22 West Forty-fourth Street, New York, has just published "A Political Primer of New York City and State," by Adele M. Fielde. The author gives in the shape of questions and answers and in concise form information concerning the main features of the government of New York State and an interpretation of the revised charter of 1902, under which New York City is now governed. The volume also contains eight maps, showing the various political divisions or districts into which Greater New York is now cut up, such as Senate districts, Assembly districts, the municipal court districts, and also two maps showing the judicial districts and the Senate districts of the State. Other features of interest are an official directory to the city and county officers within the boundaries of Greater New York, and a number of statistical tables relating to population in New York State and elsewhere.

PRINCE HENRY, on the occasion of his visit to Harvard University, on the 6th inst., presented on behalf of Emperor William II. a very handsome portfolio containing photographs of notable German architectural and art monuments. The portfolio was prepared at the studio of W. Collin, of Berlin, by George Collin, the well-known German Court bookbinder, and the inventor of the artistic Collin leather. The leather used in covering the portfolio is a pale red morocco, bearing on the front the imperial crown and the letter W. The whole is artistically tooled by hand. The doublure is gray moire silk. Mr. Collin also recently bound for the Emperor a set of the works of his ancestor, Frederick the Great, in thirty-four volumes, in full morocco, ornamented in facsimile of a volume that belonged to Frederick the Great. This set was presented by the Emperor to the Johns Hopkins University. Several of the boys of the royal family have learned the trade of a bookbinder at the establishment of W. Collin.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish shortly a book by Edward Dickinson, Professor of History and Music in Oberlin College, entitled "Music in the History of the Western Church, with an Introduction on Religious Music among Primitive and Ancient Peoples." The book shows how, in different nations and times, the music of the church has been moulded under the influence of varying ideals of devotion, liturgical uses, national temperaments, and types and methods of expression current in secular art. It treats church music as an element in church history, with a view to its causes and connections. They have in preparation another book on old New York, by Charles Hemstreet, author of "Nooks and Corners of Old New York," entitled "When Old New York was Young," which is made up of a series of sketches on old-time New York at various periods of its history and topographical mutation, each abundantly illustrated from old prints and furnished with a plan of streets existing at the time treated of. "Bridge Rules and Reasons, Formulated and Explained," is the descriptive title of a book by J. B. Elwell, which the Scribners will publish in the near future. Mr. Elwell is well known as the leading instructor in bridge in this country, and his rules have now stood the test of five years of practical use. This book, which not only clearly states the rules and principles of bridge, but fully explains each, will immediately take its place as the authority. They also announce "Practical Talks by an Astronomer," a popular book on astronomical topics, by Harold Jacoby, adjunct professor of astronomy in Columbia University. Professor Jacoby, who has early won an international reputation for his achievements in astronomy, has combined entertainment and instruction very happily in the score of sketches that compose this volume. From the endless subjects contained in the science that admit of detached treatment he has chosen a number of those which are of the greatest general interest and has treated these in a practical way with special reference to the enlightenment of the general reader. The volume will be well illustrated.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have in preparation "New France and New England," by John Fiske, the last link in the chain of his historical series down to the adoption of the Constitution; "Lee at Appomattox, and Other Papers," by Charles Francis Adams; "Charles Eliot," a biography of this lamented landscape architect, with some exemplification of his art; "The Reminiscences of a Dramatic Critic," by Henry Austin Clapp; "An American at Oxford," by John Corbin; "Molière," by Leon H. Vincent; a metrical translation of the first six books of Virgil's Æneid, by Harlan H. Ballard; "The Argive Heræum," edited by Dr. Charles Waldstein; "Social Salvation," by Washington Gladden; "The Physiological Aspects of the Liquor Problem," edited by Dr. J. S. Billings; "A Guide to the Literature of American History," by J. N. Learned; the concluding volumes (xii., xiv.) of Prof. C. S. Sargent's "Silva of North America;" "The Diary of a Goose Girl," a unique outdoor book by Kate Douglas Wiggin; "To the End of the Trail," a novel of Colorado mining camps, by Frank L. Nason, a mining engineer whose professional life has been mainly spent among the scenes which he describes; "The Claybornes," a story of the Civil War, by William Sage, who shows the quality of the men on both sides, taking the attitude that all were Americans, fighting the inevitable conflict; also, a story of heredity by Mrs. Georgia Wood Pangborn, entitled "Roman Biznet," the hero of which is the son of a French Canadian half-breed and the grandson of a German musician. Four new volumes are soon to be published in the American Men of Letters Series, of which the late Charles Dudley Warner was editor. Arrangements were made long since for volumes on Hawthorne, Whittier, Motley and Longfellow, but the books have been delayed by the absorbing occupations of the writers engaged on them. Professor George E. Woodberry, who wrote the volume on Poe in the same series, has almost ready the volume on Hawthorne. The Longfellow is nearing completion at the hands of Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson; Professor Edward G. Bourne, of Yale, expects to finish the volume on Motley in time for publication in the autumn, and Professor George R. Carpenter, of Columbia, will probably deliver the manuscript of his Whittier in time for publication before the end of the year. Meanwhile the publishers have entered on plans for volumes dealing with Prescott and Holmes.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplaced, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

THE GRIFFITH AND ROWLAND PRESS, 1420 Chestnut St., Philadelphia

PUBLISHERS who safeguard crevices through which high binding bills creep, are ultimately bound to lead the procession in the onward march of progress. Just stop long enough in the whirl of your busy hours to consider the vast importance and advantage to your interests which a connection with me implies. A line to me either to call or submit samples and estimates will have the desired effect. The annual sum total I am positive I can save you in your binding account is sufficient to provide a dividend, the amount of which some of the best publishers don't earn. In spite of being your lowest bidder I will give you the highest character of work, employing only the highest priced labor, thus obtaining the best possible results. My plant and facilities are unequalled. Don't allow yourselves to be blinded by cant and misrepresentation. The constant hum of my busy plant is a sufficient answer to those who disregard the broad plane of justice and equality. Even those publishers who have their own plants find that I can do their work cheaper and better than they can produce it themselves.

THE COLONIALS

When we announced THE COLONIALS by Allen French, we took it to our friends the booksellers with fear and trembling. Another historical novel by a new writer!!

We cannot remember that a single dealer said an encouraging word. None of them seemed to care to know whether it was well written or not. It might have been as good as Scott's Ivanhoe. They condemned it unread.

YET:

Feb. 1.—The book was published.

Feb. 5.—More orders were received than we could fill.

Feb. 5.—A new edition was put to press.

Feb. 6.—Edition increased.

Feb. 14.—Third edition sent to press.

Feb. 25.—Trade ordering in 250 and 500 lots.

March 8.—Fourth edition in press—ready at once.

Moral: A really good book will succeed in spite of preconceived notions.

NEW YORK

A New Story of the South by a
New Writer

First Edition, 15,000 Copies

THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS

By THOMAS DIXON, Jr.

AS A VIVID and dramatic story of the modern South and the Negro question from the Southern white man's point of view. It is already creating a real sensation.

A thousand copies of this novel were wired for two months before publication by a Southern retail dealer; one jobber ordered another 1000; and advance orders of 100 and 250 copies were common from firms which usually order from 10 to 25 copies. Although it is Mr. Dixon's first book, the first edition was 15,000 copies.

The Annual Literary Index, 1901

Including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc.; with Author-Index, Bibliographies, Necrology, and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited by W. I. FLETCHER and R. R. BOWKER, with the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of the Library Journal staff.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX complements the "Annual American Catalogue" of books, published each year, by indexing (1) articles in periodicals published during the year of its issue; (2) essays and book-chapters in composite books; (3) authors of periodical articles and essays; (4) special bibliographies; (5) authors deceased; (6) dates of principal events during the year. The two volumes together make a complete record of the literary product of the year.

"Of great value to all who would keep advised of the topics and writers in the periodical literature of the day."

—Universalist Quarterly.

PUBLISHED TO-DAY

Dante's Divina Commedia

A Prose Translation by CHARLES ELIOT NORTON. New Edition, from new plates. With notes. 3 vols., crown 8vo, $4.50. [The first 250 copies have been specially printed, and bound with paper label and uncut edges. $4.50, net.]

Mr. Norton's previous translation of the "Divine Comedy," published ten years ago, has been accepted by Dante scholars as the most admirable rendering of the great masterpiece of Italian literature into English prose. But Mr. Norton has devoted years of further study to the work, and this new edition gives the results of his careful revision, and a still more faithful reflection of Dante's meaning. Many new notes have been added and the work, printed from new plates, is brought out in attractive library form.

The Life of John Ruskin

By W. G. COLLINGWOOD, author of "The Life and Works of John Ruskin." From new plates and with a photogravure portrait. Large crown 8vo, $2.00, net. [Postage, 13 cents.]

This volume meets the need of a compact, yet authoritative Life of Ruskin. It is not a mere reprint of the earlier two volume biography, but has been rewritten and much new matter added.

Nature and Human Nature

By ELLEN RUSSELL EMERSON, author of "Indian Myths," "Masks, Heads, and Faces." 12mo, $1.25, net. [Postage, 13 cents.]

Mrs. Emerson in this little book treats of the efforts that men have made to interpret the world through art. The book appeals especially to those who believe that there can be no great art which is not an expression of high ideals.

Riverside Biographical Series

In this choice group of brief biographies twelve Lives have appeared. Another is now ready:—

Stephen A. Douglas. By WILLIAM GARROTT BROWN.

Each 16mo, with photogravure portrait, 65 cents, net; School Edition, with half-tone portrait, 50 cents, net. [Postage, 6 cents.]
